Lastly, you simply leave out the fact that elite players spend more time on music than good players.

The system should have a mixing valve to establish a constant hot water delivery temperature with a circulating pump sized for a 10 degree temperature difference throughout the system.

The Universal Declaration of Human Rights was adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in 1948.